Calling all Scarf-Makers

Earlier this year the National Wool Museum and Craft Victoria sent out a challenge for craft enthusiasts to "stick their necks out" and submit an entry into the 2010 Scarf Festival, entitled "Reflections Scarf Festival 2010".

Knitters were invited to "be inspired to make a scarf which reflects your own unique identity, incorporating your artistic or cultural heritage. You may like to include patterns, colours or even images reflecting your heritage: knitted, woven or appliqued images are fine".

Presented in partnership with Craft Victoria, the Scarf Festival made a return to the National Wool Museum following last year's highly successful "Transformations" Festival in which almost 200 scarves were submitted from all over Australia and overseas.

This year there are 12 award categories, including Scarf of the Year, Best Thematic Scarf, Best Felted Scarf and Best Scarf Made Using Sustainable Practices. Young craft enthusiasts are also encouraged, with special awards for the Best Scarf Made by a 12 Year Old or Younger, and Best Scarf Made by a 13-18 Year Old.

From 18 June until 25 July, every scarf entered is on display in the "Reflections" showcase exhibition, which is a visual celebration of diverse textures and techniques. The festival also boasts an extensive program of workshops and events in both Melbourne and Geelong.

For any enquiries, please call Elise Potter, Communications Officer, National Wool Museum, Ph: 03 5272 4704, or email epotter@geelongcity.vic.gov.au

Angora - Perfect for pampering

By Catherine Lees

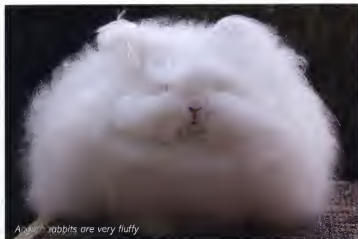

Angora is popular for knitted and crocheted toys and clothes such as this Amigurumi from Florida and Spain: www.knitskins.com.au

Baby booties, fluffy scarves and cardigans – there is nothing like Angora for giving a sensation of being pampered. And for knitters it remains one of the most unique yarns to work with.

The Angora is an old breed of rabbit, and although the Romans kept these petit animals, an industry did not become established until the 1700s when they were introduced to France from England in 1723. The use of Angora fibre in garments was first recorded in 1870, although many consider that the heyday of Angora fashion occurred in the 1940s and 1950s, when plush twin sets were teamed with chic pencil skirts, capri pants and, of course, a string of pearls.

Angora wool refers to the downy coat produced by the Angora rabbit and is known for its softness, fine silky texture and the characteristic floating and furry appearance. While their names are similar, Angora wool or fibre is different to mohair, which comes from the Angora goat.

The most common types of Angora rabbit are the English, French, German, Satin and Giant, all of which produce different quality and quantity of fibre with many different colours. Commercially two types of rabbit types are frequently used: The French

Angora rabbits are very fluffy

Angora wool can be spun into many different yarns

Angora which has a bristly coat that is plucked, and the German Angora which has a woolly coat that is sheared to remove the fibre. Because the fur of the Angora rabbit naturally molts throughout the year, plucking does not hurt the animals.

During the 1930s the international industry began to develop a focus for quality, with selective breeding used until varieties were developed that resulted in finer fibre and higher yields. Angora wool is produced in Europe (France, Germany, Hungary and Finland), Chile, Argentina, India, Australia, New Zealand, China and the United States. France was the leading producer until the 1950s and China dominates the market today. Surprisingly, Angora fibre production is the third largest animal fibre industry in the world after wool and mohair.

The Angora industry is notable because the countries that produce the fibre tend to send their fibre to other countries for processing. The larger producer countries such as China and Chile export the raw fibre to be processed in Europe, Japan and Korea. The main retail markets are in North America, Western Europe and Japan. India, however, is an exception within the industry, being a producer, processor and consumer of Angora wool.

Fibre production is time consuming. Grooming is an important part of animal maintenance with each rabbit needing to be groomed at least once or twice a week to prevent the fur from matting or felting, and there is also a danger that the rabbit will ingest the hair if there is too much excess hair.

Harvesting of the fibre in commercial operations occurs up to three to four times a year and it is collected by shearing or plucking the fur. Some keen knitters manage to spin their Angora fibre directly from the rabbit – which also does not hurt the animals in any way.

Historically, Australia has had a small Angora industry and more recently changes to state government laws now allow for commercial rabbit farming in most states. Being a labour intensive animal industry, producing Angora is different to other fibres and this makes it particularly suited to craft enthusiasts or hobby farmers, especially as the current international market only offers modest prices for the raw fibre.

The largest producer of Angora is China with some 50 million rabbits producing 10,000 tonnes of fibre annually, and some 50 per cent of the fibre is exported into the international market. This represents 90 per cent of the world fibre output. World Angora fibre prices peaked in 1985 at Aud$89.32 per kg of raw fibre. It is estimated that each rabbit in a commercial farm produces 1.4kg per year.

Fast Facts

- Angora fibre production is the third largest animal fibre industry in the world.
- The Angora rabbit (Oryctolagus cuniculus) is a species of the order Lagomorpha and is descended from European wild rabbit.
- Angora wool is very fine, being only 10-12 microns in diameter which compares to fine merino wool that is 18.5-20 microns, or to human hair that is 60-70 microns.
- There are 50 million Angora rabbits in China that produce about 10,000 tonnes of Angora fibre each year.
- Angora rabbit fibre is warmer than wool.

Angora's unique properties make it a versatile fibre. Blending the fibre with wool gives the yarn added elasticity, reduces the fluffy halo effect and decreases the price of the final garment or item. When blended with cotton or synthetics, Angora produces a high quality, lightweight, wash and wear fabric that can be used in designer wear such as suiting and jackets. And although some people associate Angora with a prickly effect, it is only the lower quality fibres that give this sensation.

Because Angora is much warmer than wool, it is often used in health wear products for those who are inactive and prone to feeling especially cold, arthritis patients, or in thermal clothing for extremely cold climates. It is also the perfect fibre for use in knitted socks or baby booties – blending even a small amount of Angora with other fibres will increase the warmth of the socks significantly and the additional fibres will add elasticity for comfort and improved durability.

Some knitters are wary of trying Angora yarn because of the 'fluff factor' but it is an easy yarn to use. When hand knitting, one way to reduce the fluffy halo effect is to place the yarn in the fridge for a while to settle the fibres. Bamboo needles are sometimes recommended instead of metal or plastic, as they offer a slightly more textured surface and reduce the slipperiness of the yarn against the needles. And many consider Angora yarns or blends perfect for machine knitters, as the strength of the yarn means it may not break as easily as other fibres.

Angora is also the perfect yarn to use if you are interested in making toys or animal softies. One of the newer trends is Amigurumi, or the Japanese art of crocheted animals and toys which are made by making a number of shapes in an unbroken spiral of single crochet, then joining them together to form the doll. As the Angora yarn is super soft, these small toys are the perfect gift for newborns or children.

Colourful Angora yarns from Morris and Sons

Sensation from Morris and Sons

And as with many yarns, knitters like to consider the wearability of the fibre. Shedding can be greatly reduced if the garment is carefully placed into a Ziploc bag, making sure to squeeze out as much air as possible; then placed into the freezer for several hours. When wearing Angora separates, it can be a good idea to team the garments with similar colours so any hair that does shed is less noticeable.

Like many luxury yarns, fabrics or items of Angora are only suitable for hand washing then carefully laying to air dry. If you do toss it in the washing machine you may as well kiss the beautiful garment goodbye. The exception to this rule is where the fabric contains a blend of at least 50 per cent synthetic fibre, such as polyester or acrylic. ■

Patchwork Throw

Self striping silk blend Noro yarn creates an exquisite palette of vivid and subtle hues.

This cleverly constructed blanket incorporates the techniques of knitting up stitches and three needle cast off, to great effect.

YARN

- 15 x 50gm balls Noro Silk Garden or Kureyon
- 7 x balls Jo Sharp Classic DK colour 351 Muscat

NEEDLES AND TOOLS

- 5.00mm knitting needles
- 6.00mm knitting needle
- 2 x 5.00mm circular needles 80cm or 100cm
- Wool sewing needle

MEASUREMENTS

105 x 145 cm

TENSION

17 sts by 10cm over garter stitch on 5.00 needles

GETTING STARTED

Each Log Cabin Square when completed should measure 30cm. A ball of Silk Garden or Kureyon is not quite sufficient to knit one square. You may choose a section of another ball in toning shades, to start or complete each square. Keep all scraps for this purpose.

WORKING PATTERN

Choose a bright colour from inside or outside of ball.
Using thumb method, cast on 10 sts. Knit 20 rows garter st, (knit every row). On RS equal 10 garter ridges. Do not cast off, change to a different colour using another section of ball. The remainder of square is knitted continuously without breaking wool.

With RS facing, knit a further 20 rows garter st. Cast off, don't break the yarn, instead, pass the whole ball through the stitch and pull firmly to fasten off. Turn rectangle clockwise and with RS facing pick up 20 sts down side of rectangle (1st per garter ridge).

When picking up stitches choose the uppermost loop to minimise bulk on the WS of square.

Knit 19 rows, cast off.

Following the method above, continue picking up stitches and knitting 19 rows until finished.

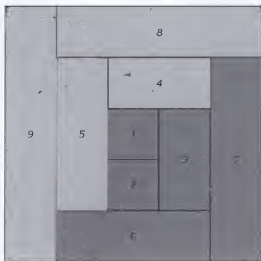

Section 4 will have 20 sts.

Sections 5 and 6 will have 30 sts.

Sections 7 and 8 will have 40 sts and section 9 will have 50 sts.

Complete section 9, see Diagram, do not cast off. Thread wool needle with ▶ scrap yarn and thread through 50 sts. Make a total of 12 squares.

MAKING LOG CABIN STRIPS

Lay out squares in a colour sequence of choice. Draw a rough plan of layout. Ensure squares are all facing the same direction with section 9 facing the bottom of strip. Work on first strip.

Knit up 50 sts on spare needle. Using Jo Sharp DK with RS facing, knit 6 rows garter st (3 ridges on RS). Leave sts on spare needle. Using a second ball of Jo Sharp DK and RS facing pick up 50 stitches across the top of the next square; section 7 on diagram.

Knit 5 rows garter st. Using 3 needle cast off method, holding right sides together, loosely cast off all 50 sts. Use 6.00 needle for cast off. The two squares will now be joined. Continue in this method joining the remaining 2 squares, top and bottom, to form a strip of four. Leave top and bottom of strips without borders. These will be done after the three strips are joined.

JOINING LOG CABIN STRIPS

Using Jo Sharp DK 5.00 circular needle and RS facing, pick up and knit 218 sts along side of strip. 50 sts for each square, 6 sts for each join. Knit 5 rows garter st. Leave sts on needle. Break yarn. Using Jo Sharp DK repeat this process down corresponding side of next strip. With right sides together use 3 needle cast off method, cast off all sts loosely. Two strips are now joined.

KNITTING OUTER BORDER

Using Jo Sharp DK, RS facing beg at top right hand square, pick up and knit 162 sts.

Knit 17 rows garter st, 9 ridges. Cast off loosely with RS facing. Do not break, but pass ball through last st. Continue picking up 226 sts down long side of rug. Knit 17 rows. Cast off loosely with RS facing. Do not break, but pass ball through last st. Pick up and knit 170 sts down short side of rug. Knit 17 rows. Cast off loosely with RS facing. Do not break, but pass ball through last st. Pick up and knit 234 sts along final side rug. Knit 17 rows. Cast off loosely.

MAKING UP

Sew in all ends.

"A word about"

If you are new to knitting you are most likely struggling with the new language-you have had to learn to read to follow a knitting pattern as well as the new stitches to make your garment so here are a couple of helpful items:

Reading patterns. The smallest size is always listed first and following sizes usually are placed in "()" you will find it much easier to follow the pattern if you mark the pattern with a pen or pencil circling the size you are using.

Tension. A tension square is always recommended unless you are very sure of your knitting style. This will ensure you get what you wanted for all your effort. To make a tension square follow the directions on each pattern.

As an example 22 stitches by 29 rows over stocking st. = 10cm. would mean

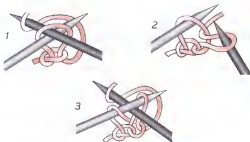

Cast on 22 stitches, knit first row, purl second row, continue in stocking stitch until 29 rows have been completed. Cast off. Measure the square. If your square is not 10cm your tension is not as for the pattern, if tension is too loose use a half to one size smaller knitting needles and if tension is too tight use half to one size larger needles.

Remember that if your tension is not correct, dimensions and yarn usage will all be significantly effected.

Yarns. Please note to use the specified wool other yarns are likely to produce different results.

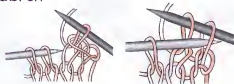

Sewing up your garment. Use a large eye needle such as a darning needle, or a long teddy bear needle and the yarn from the garment. Back stitch is the most commonly used stitch for sewing up garments, and is as its name suggest is a straight stitch progressively moving backwards and forwards over a line for strength.

CAST ON

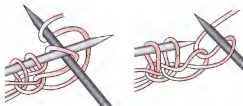

Cast on. Create a slip knot on yarn and place on left (holding) needle. Using right (working) needle place between slip knot and pass yarn around needle and form a loop pulling this loop through with working needle and place on holding needle. This will place 2 stitches now on left holding needle. Repeat using stitch just created to form next stitch.

CAST OFF

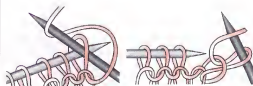

Cast off. Knit two stitches Pick up the first stitch knitted and lift over second stitch knitted and off working needle between the needles.

KNIT

Knit: K. Push the needle through the middle of the first stitch, pass the yarn around under the left and over to the right. Pull the loop through with the working needle. Slip the stitch off holding needle.

PURL

Purl: P. Holding yarn at the front push the needle through the first stitch. Pass the yarn around under the needle and back to form a loop. Pull the loop through, slipping the stitch off the holding needle and onto the working needle.

CHAIN

Chain: ch. To start make a slip knot on hook. Pass the yarn over and draw it through the slip knot loop, continue passing yarn over and drawing through hook.

SLIP STITCH

Slip stitch: sl s. Insert the hook in stitch pass the yarn over and draw loop through stitch.

DOUBLE CROCHET

Double crochet: dc. – known in US as single crochet or sc: single crochet. Insert the hook in stitch pass yarn over and pull a loop through, pass the yarn over the hook and draw through both loops on the hook.

TREBLE CROCHET

Treble crochet: tr. – known in US as double crochet. Pass yarn over hook, insert hook into top two loops of stitch. Pass yarn over hook and pull a loop through stitch, (3 loops on hook) pass the yarn over hook and draw through the first 2 loops on hook, pass yarn over hook and again draw it through remaining 2 loops.

HALF TREBLE CROCHET

Half treble crochet: htr. – known in US as half double crochet. Pass yarn over hook, insert hook into top two loops of stitch, the same as in treble crochet pass yarn over and pull a loop through stitch, creating 3 loop on hook, pass yarn over hook and draw through all loops on the hook.
